

Imagine someone living in a care home, or accessing care support who feels unable to talk about their life, their experiences, memories, hopes, family and relationships

We work with older and old LGBT people to identify and address the issues that arise for them

We work with a whole range of organisations to find solutions and improve services

We influence commissioners, the Care Quality Commission, and others to spearhead better practice

@LGBTSAND

SAND

Safe Ageing No Discrimination

Raising awareness and helping health and social care providers, carers, public authorities and others to understand and address fears and discrimination that may be experienced by older and old LGBT people accessing their services.

How many older or old LGBT people do you know?

Not many?

So how does it feel and what does it mean to be invisible? Who is looking out for you?

<http://lgbtsand.wordpress.com>
Lgbtsand@gmail.com

Imagine someone living in a care home, or accessing care support who feels unable to talk about their life, their experiences, memories, hopes, family and relationships

We work with older and old LGBT people to identify and address the issues that arise for them

We work with a whole range of organisations to find solutions and improve services

We influence commissioners, the Care Quality Commission, and others to spearhead better practice

@LGBTSAND

SAND

Safe Ageing No Discrimination

Raising awareness and helping health and social care providers, carers, public authorities and others to understand and address fears and discrimination that may be experienced by older and old LGBT people accessing their services.

How many older or old LGBT people do you know?

Not many?

So how does it feel and what does it mean to be invisible? Who is looking out for you?

<http://lgbtsand.wordpress.com>
Lgbtsand@gmail.com